SYNOPSIS.

CLEARINGHOUSE ASSOCIA-TION to the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature to make a script legal tender in the state; and taxes... Marvelous inventions, which may render them by wireless current transferring firm ordered to pay to their creditors or to the Bank of England.In both cases these precautionary measures were taken to stop the drain of gold upon the institutions' reserves.
What made the action of the Bank of England most remarkable was the fact that not since 1873 have conditions appeared such an acute stage as to warrant a 7 per cent. rate in the opinion of the directors of that institution.
In other words, apparently, the management of the Bank of England regards the present situation as the most critical from a monetary point of view that has developed during the present generation.The panic of 1873, which was given an impetus by the Jay Cooke failure in New York, caused the Bank of England to raise its discount rate to 7 per cent. on October 18, in that year, and later to 9 per cent. The Bank of

AFTERMATH LESSONS OF THE ELECTION.

Labor Unions Get the Most Fierce One.

Another Has Gone Home to Daniel A. Ryan.

Mayor Taylor Beat Both of His Opponents.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The surprising success of the Good Government party ticket at the polls, the election of Mayor Taylor, and an honest, efficient Board of Supervisors, and the repudiation of labor unionism, has had an immediate effect on San Francisco. It has braced up business men, given tone to the real estate market, and increased the confidence of every one in the future of the city. The day after election, the First National Bank let contracts for a $1,000,000 class A building at the northwest corner of Post and Montgomery streets, and several large tracts of real estate were made yesterday and today.

The press comment of the East, which recognizes the reform in progress in San Francisco, shows greater confidence in the men who control the city government.

PIN-HEADISM.

Above all other things, it is recognized that union labor has received a very wholesome lesson, and that it will be some time before a foul-mouthed, insolent demagogue of the type of "Pinhead" can get away with it. He was able to squander thousands of dollars of the hard-earned money of the workingmen in order that he may ride around town in the latest type of automobile, and planted, had the hand walls and front of his ornate home district with three-sheet posters depicting himself in the attitude of addressing admiring crowds.

It would be interesting to know what McCarthy got the money which he has in both hands in this campaign. On election day he had a score of autos in waiting in front of his headquarters, and his adjutants were shouting here and there, carrying orders given by the Napoleonic head of the Building Trades Council. Until pretty late on election night, McCarthy firmly believed he had been elected, and he and General would run the city for the next two years in the interest of the union movement.

What effect defeat will have on McCarthy is impossible to tell, but the Building Trades Council is anxious to be rid of him and his domineering ways. They argue that no good can come to unionism while he is in charge of such an important department.

RYAN'S LESSON.

As for young Danny Ryan, he has thrown away a promising political career, just as young Billy Barnes did on the eve of the Spanish War. Had Ryan withdrawn in favor of Taylor and devoted his oratory to Taylor's service, he could have had anything in the world. He is a real opportunist. He could have gone to Congress and ultimately to the Senate. As it is, he is as dead as Partridge, the lawyer, who ran as a fusion candidate against Schmidt and was so badly beaten.

Ryan did not carry a precinct in the city, and in only two precincts did he beat McCarthy.

A clear majority of all over both his opponents was given to Dr. Taylor by the people of San Francisco on Tuesday, as shown by the preliminary returns, while the successful candidate simply walks away from McCarthy and Ryan with a plurality of 11,233. Langdon knows McGowan under with a plurality over the Union Labor and Socialists, and got only $17, though McGowan managed to run more than 2000 better than the head of his ticket. Thus, in official figures, the will of the public is registered overwhelmingly against graft.

OFF—A COUNT.

The count of the ballots was not completed till 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. It shows that of the 57,200 ballots cast for Mayor, Dr. Edward R. Taylor, the Good Government incumbent, received 28,806; P. H. McCarthy, Union Labor, 17,817; D. A. Ryan, Republican, 27,777; E. L. Regan, Socialist, 192.

Two of the smaller offices were captured by the Union Labor party on the face of the return, though a contest is possible, as well supported allegations have been made that the returns in the county of Alameda and John McDougal appear to have been elected to the county clerkship and the treasurer, respectively. They are the sole survivors of the wreck which started out the aspirations of "Pinhead" and the gangster. Horton is beaten for Auditor, while William Broderick, whose name could not be put on the Good Government list of nominees, though he was endorsed for Auditor, is beaten.

Twenty-one charter amendments and one ordinance were voted upon, chief among them in popular interest being an amendment empowering the people to recall public officials and direct voters to them. The vote of 32,561 against 5,555 the proposal adopted this radical principle of municipal reform. Nineteen of the twenty other amendments were adopted and the proposed ordinance reducing by $100 a year the total liquor license was defeated.

The vaults at the City Hall in which the ballots cast on Tuesday were deposited are considered so insecure that two policemen have been detailed to guard them.

DETAILED RETURNS.

Upon the completed returns as they stand, Harry L. Mulcrety, Union Labor candidate, is elected to the office of County Clerk, over William P. McCabe, candidate of the Democratic party, and the Good Government League. McCabe's vote is 24,429, while McCabe has 21,659.

John McDougal, Union Labor candidate for Treasurer, who held that office until the election of two years ago, when he was defeated by Charles Bentzel, the incumbent, has been again returned to the office. He has 24,498 while his opponent has 19,488. There are only four precincts to be heard from upon this election, and they will not change the result.

CALIFORNIAN IS KILLED.

One of the Original Forty-niners is Fatally Trampled Upon by Cab Horse in Chicago.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles E. Henry, 74 years old, a retired mine owner of California, and one of the original forty-niners, was knocked down and trampled on by a cab horse at State and Quincy streets today, and so badly injured that he died two hours later at the home of his cousin, J. A. Guilford, No. 100 Washington boulevard, where he had been visiting the last few days.

The driver of the vehicle did not pause when he saw the aged man roll beneath the horse's hoofs, but he hurried on and made his escape.

Mrs. Henry returned from a shopping trip before her husband's death and became hysterical when she learned of his condition. She was found to be in a state of shock, and they will not change the result.

Samuel Wells Horton, Union Labor candidate for Auditor, ran ahead of his ticket, and was only defeated by a small vote by Kosch, who can on the Good Government ticket. The incomplete returns give the latter 21,294 votes, and the former 18,880.

William Broderick, the Democratic candidate for Supervisor, who was elected on the Good Government ticket, was seen to have been victorious over Casserly, his nearest opponent on the Union La-

CANT LOCATE HER WEALTH.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a time when the needs of the country are great, the missing of George A. Miller, well known throughout the country, has been a source of anxiety to his wife, Mrs. Dora McDonald, charged with the murder of Webster Guerin, has forgotten the hiding place of $18,000 worth of bonds given her by her late husband, "Mike" McDonald, former gambling king. This proof of the woman's mental aberration, cited by her counsel, Col. J. Hamilton Lewis, was sufficient to induce Judge Brentano today to permit her case to go over until the December term of court.

GREAT RALLY AT STANFORD.

Great Enthusiasm Over Game With California.

Largest Bonfire Ever Burned
on Campus Ignited.

Dark Horse Given Position on Berkeley Team.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coach Lanagan announced the line-up for the 'varsity team tonight, for the great annual game with California here Saturday. All the positions are certain with the exception of wing forward, which lies between Reed and Owen. Reed is the speedier, but an early injury may incapacitate him. The final choice will not be announced until Saturday morning.

The football rally this evening was the most enthusiastic ever witnessed here, even before the big games when they still played the old style football. The team chosen by Coach Lanagan and Presley has the entire confidence of the student body, and the campus is with the exception of a 'Cardinal' victory. The players at the rally tonight were Coach Lanagan, Field, Coach Presley, Trainer 'Dad' Moulton, Capt. Koerner, E. A. Cunha, '97 former varsity defender, J. F. Reiley, '01 president of Euphonian Literary Society, and Prof. A. C. Whitaker of the economics department.

After the speeches the students danced the 'hurry-up' around the big bonfire in the historic field of Stanford. All yesterday afternoon the freshmen gathered barrels and rubbish chartering huge lumber wagons to help them in their task, until the monster wood-pile towered high in the gymnasium. It was guarded by a detachment of freshmen last night to prevent it being prematurely burned by any overenthusiastic Berkeley sympathizer. The blaze tonight lighted up the whole stadium, and where the 'Cardinal' roosters danced and sang until a late hour.

The football assembly here this morning was addressed by William T. Reid, Jr., former football star at Harvard, and Dr. Thomas M. Williams, a famous Stanford center. Their speeches were chiefly reminiscences of their football days, though each devoted a little time to the discussion of the merits of Rugby.

Reid is coaching the Belmont, where his father is head master. Williams has taken an active interest in football since his graduation, and acted as coach in the years when there was no paid expert to train the Cardinal teams.

CARDINAL RESTING.

LIGHT PRACTICE FOR FORM.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 6.—The last regular practice before the big game was held Wednesday night. A short line-up between the first and second teams was the order of the day yesterday afternoon, but no hard playing was indulged in, for fear of an injury to one of the players who would be in the 'varsity' afternoons.

For the remainder of the week the work will be light, and designed only to keep the men in good condition. Practice in forming scrum and breaking up the pack and backfield formations occupied most of the time each afternoon this week, though a few minutes every day has been spent on the tackling dummy and in springing up and down the turf field to develop the players' wind.

There will be no secret practice for the Cardinals, fifteen as Coach Lanagan's rule for big games is to play straight, hard Rugby without any trick plays other than what have been developed in the course of regular training.

The rule limiting the number of substitutes to four has been relaxed, and the coaches will be using Stanford players on the sidelines Saturday afternoon, as there were twenty-four men measured for the new suits. At tonight's rally will be their last appearance before the student body prior to their struggle against the Blue and Gold, as the 'varsity' trip into the hills on Friday will keep them from the campus the entire day.

GUARDING CAMPUS.

The sophomores will guard the campus Friday night in order to prevent a possible raid by the Berkeley students. The wearers of the Blue and Gold are much wrought up since they awakened one morning last week to find their cherished "C" painted a brilliant cardinal, and it is not unlikely that they will attempt to retaliate by an attack of some sort on the Stanford campus. The Blue and Gold duty Thursday night, and the sophomores will patrol the entire campus, and especially the football bleachers, the night before the game.

TRIP TO THE HILLS.

According to the usual custom, the 'varsity team and substitutes, in com-

MICHIGAN SEEKS GAME WITH WESTERN ELEVEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.), Nov. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaking of the Athletic Association, Manager Baird announced, officially, today, that if Michigan defeated Pennsylvania in Ann Arbor, November 16, for the championship of the country, the Wolverine squad will be taken on a western tour during the Christmas holidays. If the tour is made, at least two games probably will be played, one with a California team and the other with either the championship team of Colorado or Utah.

Whether or not the trip will be made depends upon the results in the Pennsylvania game. As yet neither Manager Baird nor Coach Yost has any western teams in mind, but the chances are that the game in Denver, if one is played there, will be between the State University or the University of Michigan. The California game will be played in Los Angeles, and the opposing team will be either the University of Southern California or St. Vincent's College. The possibilities of a game with Maddock's Utah squad is also being considered.

The team under which Manager Baird is willing to make the trip is that the expenses of the squad, which will amount to about $5000, will be guaranteed by the opposing teams.

Manager Baird received a telegram from the coach of St. Vincent's College today, in which the coach said that he would join with another western college in making a reasonable guarantee. Manager Baird and this would be considered favorable.

Because of the large alumni in Colorado, a game in Denver is desired, and this preferably with the State University, but if this team does not want to play, the State University or the University of Colorado or the University of Utah.

REVOLUTIONISTS UP.

Dismissal of De Lara Sought, but Decision Reserved—Other Hearings in Few Weeks.

Gutierrez De Lara, one of the four Mexican revolutionaries now in the custody of the Federal authorities, was taken before United States Commissioner Van Duzer yesterday morning. His attorney moved to dismiss the action pending against him on the ground that the subject matter of the complaint was similar to that contained in the first document, and that the defendant had been held over the statutory time on such proceedings. The hearing was opened by United States District Attorney Lawlor. Decision was reserved. The first charge made against De Lara was that he committed a robbery in Mexico. This was dismissed on the instruction of Attorney Lawlor, but the other charges were substituted. This recites that the defendant is guilty of larceny committed in the State of Sonora, Mexico.

The hearing upon the order of removal of Magon, Villareal and Riveras, who were held over by the Commission of the United States Court in Arizona, will probably be held the 26th inst. Although the government is not showing its hand, it is stated that ample evidence is forthcoming to insure the removal of the three condemned prisoners.

They are charged with inciting rebellion and violating the neutrality laws.

HELD ON SUSPICION.

Charging that J. W. Blackman, a Negro, was a spy, plain-clothes officers interested two plain-clothes officers in the case last night, and as a result Blackman is held on a suspicion charge in the City Jail. The police say they know nothing about the merits of the case, but they intend to make a thorough investigation.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Three civil-service inspectors have been dismissed by the health board and several others have been appointed to take their places; the men say the politicians forced them out in trumped-up charges.

Because Niles Pease signed the Buena Vista-street bridge ordinance as president of the Council, and again as acting Mayor, its validity has been questioned by the City Attorney.

Deputy City Attorney Haas has discovered a forgotten State statute that would enable the city to convict spitters, builders on a misdemeanor charge.

In the United States District Court a fine of $300,000 was assessed by Judge Wellborn yesterday against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company for granting rebates. The company was found guilty on sixty-six counts, and the fine is $5000 on each count. The case will be carried to the higher courts.

An opinion was handed down yesterday by Judge Wilbur, in the case of Alexander Bovay against the Long Beach Hotel Company for a $1000 fine judgment for the same defendant. The defense of the hotel company was that responsibility for the collapse of the building rested on the contractor.

An important opinion has been issued by the District Attorney's office with reference to what the law says must be done, and must not be done in the matter of the proposed division of Los Angeles county.

AT THE CITY HALL.

ONE "CLEAN-UP" THAT'S RIGID.

HEALTH BOARD SWEEPS AWAY CIVIL SERVICE LIST.

Merit Men Dumped as so Much Rubbish While Safety Inspectors Land Safe-Charges Preferred Before Commission and Lively Trial to Follow.

The anti-Sith crusade of the health department has achieved one marked result; there has been a pretty general clean-up of the civil service list of eligibles for places as sanitary inspectors.

It appears that the Board of Health has its own ideas as to who shall be emergency inspectors. Secretary Spalding of the civil service board notified Secretary Love of the Health Board last Monday that three of the immigrant inspectors must be dropped to make places for three men on the civil service list.

Rather to his surprise the Health Board acquiesced without protest. But yesterday he received reports from the board to the effect that three emergency inspectors have been dropped for economy; and the three inspectors are the ones whom the board was notified that it must appoint by reason of their civil service standing.

Paul H. Clark, A. E. Trident and J. F. Farnham, the three civil service men who have felt the political axe. Clark was dismissed on a report made by Dr. Doughton, who is in charge of the second Ward aqueduct.

Clark notified Secretary Spalding yesterday that he has retained an attorney and will contest his dismissal, also that he will file charges against Dr. Houghton for failure to attend to duty. Clark alleges that Houghton has spent but twelve minutes with his department.

Spalding could give to the dismissed inspectors but little comfort. He referred them to a clause in the charter which provides that during the first six months of the civil service man has no jurisdiction to review the charges on which a civil service employee is dismissed. This is the protracted period. Apparently the Health Board has kept within the civil service men and employing others under an emergency resolution.

It is possible that the civil service commission may investigate the attitude of the civil service employees in the health department in connection with the hiring and dismissal of the emergency inspectors.

Secretary Love of the Health Board charged by the inspectors with saying they had no places for places: "To hell with the civil service; I'm closing this department."

Next Tuesday afternoon there will be a general washing of soiled health department linens, under the direction of the civil service board.

DUAL SIGNATURES.

MAN OF PLACES.

Council Attorney Hewitt expressed doubts yesterday about the validity of the ordinance under which condemnation proceedings have been commenced for the approaches to the new Doway-avenue bridge. An inspection of the ordinance shows that it is signed by Niles Pease as president of the Council and again by Niles Pease as Acting Mayor.

In making up the budget this year, the Council set aside a special appropriation for the paving work on the Buena Vista-street bridge. One of the first acts of the Council was to authorise the condemnation of the land needed for the bridge and the new roadway. This ordinance was passed by the Council two months ago. On the advice of Mr. May, Mayor of the city for a short vacation trip, that happened that when the ordinance reached the chief executive, President Pease of the Council was filling that office.

Dromgold's political enemies are trying to make capital of the fact that Pease signed the ordinance twice; that Dromgold took part in the arrangement that kept the ordinance from the Mayor. The records of the City Clerk's office show that the ordinance went to the chief executive in the regular routine of business.

This appears to be the first time that a question has been raised as to the legality of an ordinance on which the name of one official appears in dual capacities. Under past administrations this was considered as a matter of course. Mr. May, a citizen of the City, who voted as Councilman, Both Bowen and Powers signed hundreds of ordinances and bills as president of the Council and as Acting Mayor.

Both Bowen and Powers, privy to some ordinances that he had on-board while sitting as a Councilman.

Several Councilmen said yesterday that they do not think that the validity of the ordinance can be affected by the dual signature of Pease, the Councilman and Acting Mayor. They said that if the City Attorney questions the validity of the proceedings they are ready to pass the ordinance a second time.

SPLIT FENCES.

OLD LAW MAY REACH.

Deputy City Attorney Haas has discovered an old State statute regulating Newport Beach.

The height of fences that he thinks may apply to some of the "spite" fences erected here. Twenty years ago that State Legislature passed an ordinance to the effect that before one may build a fence more than ten feet high he must secure a permit from the Council of an incorporated city or from a county if the State or the fence is to be built in the country.

There have been scores of complaints here about spite fences and there are a number of them now standing in the incorporated sections. The Deputy City Attorney said that under the ordinance he believes that convictions can be secured. When the next spite fence complaint comes to the City Attorney a test case will follow.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

HEAVY FINE FOR SANTA FE.

OVER THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ASSESSED.

Judge Wellborn sentences road to pay five thousand dollars on each of sixty-six counts for grants of rebates.

Attorney of the state company was that the responsibility for the collapse of the building rested on the contractor.

An important opinion has been issued by the District Attorney's office with reference to what the law says must be done, and must not be done in the matter of the proposed division of Los Angeles county.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

DAMAGE SUITS IN BAD TANGLE.

WHO IS TO BE BLAMED FOR HOTEL DISASTER?

Court Decides That Company is Not Legally Responsible—Contractor Sued by Some Victims While Complaints of Others State That He Did not Cause Collapse.

Judge Wilbur, in an opinion handed down yesterday in the case of Alexander Bovay against the Long Beach Hotel Company, gave judgment for the defendant, and declared that the predominance of the evidence tended to the conclusion that the company was not legally responsible for the collapse in which twelve men lost their lives.

Bovay's action was for $25,000 damages for personal injuries suffered in the collapse of the middle wing of the Bixby Hotel, November 8, 1906. In the original complaint the contractor, F. L. Spaulding, had been made co-defendant with the company, but testimony for the plaintiff clearly indicated that efforts to fix the liability on one of the defendants tended to clear the other of responsibility.

Counsel for the defense at that time considered that the best case had been made for the company, and on motion, the action was dismissed by Judge Wilbur.

In rendering his decision yesterday, Judge Wilbur did not go deeply into the theory of liability, but did find the collapse of the middle wing of the Bixby Hotel, November 8, 1906, to be the result of faulty construction and the removal of the forms and temporary supports while the cement was still green.

The entire defense offered by the Long Beach Hotel Company seemed to calculate to shift the blame for the catastrophe wholly to the contractor, who had ceased to be a defendant, and refused to consider the defense which was given for bona-fide claims for damages. In his opinion, Judge Wellborn said:

"After a fair and impartial trial, represented by attorneys of distinction, it was evident that the defendant had been convicted of the charges, and it now remains for me to impose sentence as provided by law."

For a quarter of a century Congress has sought to regulate commerce between the States and Territories, the agencies of transportation shall be open to all persons and localities upon terms of equality, and sternly forbids all sorts of discrimination and favoritism.

The entire defense offered by the Long Beach Hotel Company seemed to calculate to shift the blame for the catastrophe wholly to the contractor, who had ceased to be a defendant, and refused to consider the defense which was given for bona-fide claims for damages. In his opinion, Judge Wellborn said:

"After a fair and impartial trial, represented by attorneys of distinction, it was evident that the defendant had been convicted of the charges, and it now remains for me to impose sentence as provided by law."

After a trial, the court decided that the contractor was guilty of the offense.

Mr. Shaw holds that all that is necessary is for those who have undergone a change of heart to sign the petition for division, since the premature revision of the document already signed has no effect.

Reviewing the testimony for the defense, the court refers to a change in the plans after they had been accepted, and the omission of a cement roof, and to the claim, supported by testimony, that the accident was due to faulty construction and the removal of the forms and temporary supports while the cement was still green.

The entire defense offered by the Long Beach Hotel Company seemed to calculate to shift the blame for the catastrophe wholly to the contractor, who had ceased to be a defendant, and refused to consider the defense which was given for bona-fide claims for damages. In his opinion, Judge Wellborn said:

"After a fair and impartial trial, represented by attorneys of distinction, it was evident that the defendant had been convicted of the charges, and it now remains for me to impose sentence as provided by law."

A Difference in Class

There is a certain class of men who are not interested in being well dressed, but YOU are not in that class.

"Teddy Bear Drill," organized this morning for the first time in Mr. Behrman's offices and was a great success. The first ten boys in the class were soon sold out. During the afternoon, the students were received for boxes alone. The promoters said that after the sale of "the question of whether we have ever been to a theater for our charity. It has been a great success in securing a proper theater for the benefit of the city, and I hope that by buying off an excellent play, we may have the money for that period. The money we have received is the reason for the success of the show, and even though we have had equally large audiences.

CHAPTER XII.
THE PRIVET HEDGE.

"I am supposed to be like my father," Philip Calmont, the doctor's third son, was saying to little Miss Nunshy, "so everybody expects me to be about like him. 'Ha, ha,' and slapping people on the back."

"The eye that mocketh at his father . . . the ravens of the valley shall pick it out," rejoined Miss Nunshy, punctuating with the quick gesture of her pencil, which pricked him sharply into consciousness. He erected himself, and the balanced chair stood on four feet.

"What would you have me do, then?" he asked.

Like Miss Nunshy, kept her eyes on her knitting. There was a great green peace in the hedged quadrilateral of the garden. Only overhead a hawk planed with slow balancings and swift, short flights of the wing. Dennis the little bird, too, had been reconciled with one accord, while motherly old hens in Mr. Nunshy's back yard, though for the moment broodless, nevertheless bristled up and drooped their wing over imaginary chicks. They lay spread at the sun, each with one bright eye turned skyward watching his movements.

"Do," said Miss Nunshy, indignant reply to Philip Calmont's question, "do—why every man ought to be able to decide that for himself."

"I daresay—in theory," groaned Philip dismally; "but in practice it's jolly difficult, when you happen to be a man of philosophy, this quiet youth."

"Why do you come here?" Miss Nunshy asked him sometimes, "the rest will be over the wall talking to Vida, you know you would far rather be there."

"Yes," murmured Philip, easily crossing his long legs and plaiting his hands together, with his head in the hollow of them, as he leaned back against the hedge. It was mixed of private and thorn and to receive upon it unpricked meant some care and adjustment. But Philip had a long experience of Nunshy's hedge, took things gently, and never kicked against the thorns.

"Yes, no doubt. They will be talking at home and throwing out and across her, and all at a time. But I would rather come here, and —"

"Talk about her," put in Miss Nunshy. "Well, I am more than human. But not on—unless it's Philip."

Philip Calmont, nothing loth, stretched out his legs to their utmost, accommodated his head more deeply into the privet hedge (with possible splits), and exposed his philosophy.

"'Daresay,' he said, smiling, waving the point of his mended boot in the air. 'Incubus is our god, and Jacob Römer is his prophet. We all live in the gods; the minister up yonder is the priest; the hedge is the ridge which was called Mount Zion because it was crowned with alternate Kirk and manse—'my father and all of us get our living, our school and college, our books and our clothes, a lot of these, out of Incubus. Gorm Römer & Co.'s, of the Incubus works. Your father's Sunday hat, and the handkerchief, the needles you are knitting with, the time you are every moment across your arm to clear the ball in the side pocket, of your apron, very pretty it is, everything comes from Incubus. Why from Incubus?'

"Because we work for Incubus," said Miss Nunshy simply.

Philip, who did the thinking for the healthy family, and kept the results to himself, was silent. After all that was what it came to. The world was on earth to work, and it was no use arguing the matter. Incubus was as far out of reach of their complaints as the sun had been over-burdened ants working day and night for the formic community.

More than that, as yet Philip Calmont had done but little work himself. To do that, he had his avocation, and there was quite an easy chair, matted out—green, elastic, adjustable as an air cushion (due care being taken to eliminate the thicks) in the privet hedge of the summer-house at Nunshy's cottage.

"Incubus holds us all within a barbed wire fence," continued Philip. "And James Kahn does the driving. It is now very hard in our time, but when we have to, we marry one another."

"Oh, cried little Miss Nunshy with a twinge of helpless bitterness, 'we are going to do that, are we? I should be glad to know my fate.'

"Well," said Philip quietly, "I am only exposing the situation. Of course, everyone can't marry Vida Bryan can they?"

"No, of course not," said Miss Nunshy, and her hand trembled as she tossed the thread. There was a knot on the heel of that sock. It was for Philip that she had well earned that sister which remained.

"So the rest of us must marry or bide single, according to our fates," Philip continued, tipping his chape danois on his hind legs.

"I have to see the necessity," retorted little Miss Nunshy, "a great many people will need to be a good deal more serious before they can earn bread and butter for themselves, let alone for a family."

Sharp, clipped, and dry fell the response of Philip Calmont, ever blanched, "I know—I know what you think of me," said Philip with his usual phlegm, "but I will do something one day, You shall not always call me 'only a long and lazy lout.'"

At this Miss Nunshy blushed quite a pretty pink.

"You have not forgotten that," she said. "Ah, I only meant to stir you up a little. You are the cleverest of them all, Philip. Why will you persist in doing nothing?"

"It is not rich," Philip answered quite calmly; "sail his money he makes from year to year. He has laid nothing by, and with two boys—Aaron and Hur—at the university, and the youngsters with a tutor, he has nothing to spend but me, besides the others all right in pairs, while I am a by-product, and must depend on anything that may turn up. The 'pater' actually wanted me to become a chemist, so as to be handy when Aaron and Hur took over the business—keep it all in the family, you know, he'll go after them."

Affectionately, Miss Nunshy blushed quite a pretty pink.

"If you would not be immune from disease, keep the system healthy. Each successive cold weakens the human frame, and therefore infections become more liable. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure your cold promptly and restore the system to its normal condition.—[Ad.]

"Ramona Acres."

Helen Hunt Jackson, the author of "Ramona," gave to the world a great novel, but she was a failure, and indeed blamed for letting you run about like this with nothing to do but scribble sonnets to Vida Bryan, or come down here to chatter about her while I knit. But just the same, Dr. Calmont is ready to do all he can for you."

"'Grown,' said Philip cheerfully, "only that does not happen to be anything which I can accept."

"In my time," said little Miss Nunshy primly, "boys were expected to do as their parents told them. There is, I believe, a commandment in your Bible to that effect."

"Yes," said Philip interrogatively, "but not to be a chemist and druggist. Even Solomon, who is pretty hard on us, course."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Congress of Mothers.

The California Congress of Mothers has planned exceptional features for its annual meeting, to be held Wednesday at the Woman's Club House. As seems fitting, the real practical work of the child-study circles will receive a large share of attention.

The call to order will be at 9:30 in the morning, after which reports of officers will be heard, and reports of delegates, with the transaction of business and election of officers. Dr. Lewis M. Terman will then talk on "The Value of Child Study." The afternoon session will open at 1:30, with an address by the dearly-beloved president, Mrs. W. W. Wurzburg, and topics to follow are embodied under the head "Some Practical Work of the Mothers' Congress." "School Play Grounds" will be discussed by Mrs. F. L. Schlossfeld; "Emergency," by Mrs. Chalmers Smith; "School Decoration," by Mrs. W. A. Varcoe, and "Rural Education," by Dr. G. L. Glavin.

Dr. C. Moore will discuss "Scientific Physical Investigation in the Schools," and Dr. Wayne P. Smith of the State Normal School will talk on "The Education of the Negro." Howard C. Atwood will sing, and Miss Alice Owsley will give a reading.

The evening has been planned by the mothers especially for the teachers of the city, from 7:30 to 9:30, when a programme of rare entertainment will be presented. A fascinating little High school maid, Miss Virginia Gross, will dance in Spanish costume. "La Cachucha." One of the most interesting and picturesque forms of the Far East, Henry Ballantine, M. A., American Consul in India through three Presidential administrations, who has lately come to Los Angeles, will unfold the marvelous illustrations on "The Eastern and Western Metropolis of India, as Seen Through the Eyes of an Ex-Consul."

Bombay, the Parsees Towns of Silence, Calcutta, and Madras will be dwelt upon, and invested with the vivid viewpoint of one who was born in India and who has seen the inside of that strange and unfathomable country. The programme has been in the hands of a committee headed by Mrs. Jefferson Gibbs.

GETS HIS DESERTS.

Man Who Struck Another's Wife Severely Battered and Court Refuses to Punish Husband.

A mix-up among the managers of local moving-picture concerns yesterday caused the arrest of Frank Taylor, charged with battery, and of the later afternoon of G. L. Blakesley, charged with battery, both of whom were called for trial before Justice Frederickson, in Police Court, so peculiar was the evidence that the justice continued the case for further evidence, although Taylor had pleaded guilty.

"Yes, I beat Blakesley, and I will do it again if I ever catch him striking another," announced Taylor to the court. "You may fine me all I want, or do whatever you want, but I want to do on record right now as willing to do my best in the face-punching line as any man comes to demand," said Taylor, explained as follows:

"I have a system of moving certain employees of these moving-picture concerns from one place to another in order to allow the employees to go to dinner during the day. Late Wednesday evening this man Blakesley was in the moving-picture place at No. 251 South Main street. I was upstairs, and the place was empty, while my wife was downstairs selling tickets. Blakesley came in and wanted my wife to promise him to try and arrange to sell tickets at a stand while he was working. My wife refused, and as then Blakesley seized her by the arm and turned about and struck her.

"I yelled at him to turn around, and he came out downstairs. He called out, 'I didn't have to come down here if I didn't have to come up after me. As he stuck his head through the trap door I kicked him in the face and knocked him down. Then he tried to come back again I gave him a crack with my fist that settled his desire for fight."

"He went away, and later, when we were at another moving-picture to start a fight, and I hit him on the head with a hammer, and that quieted him down. If he ever hits my wife again I will beat him so that he won't know whether he is a white man or a black man."

Taylor is a singularly pretty blonde woman, told the same story to the court, and Justice Frederickson was inclined to believe her.

He ruled that there would be no further evidence before imposing a fine upon Taylor, although he had already pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Taylor was advised that to secure a warrant for the arrest of Blakesley, charging him with battery, would be the proper procedure under the circumstances, and Blakesley will be tried between now and next Tuesday. If he is found guilty, the outraged husband, will probably be dismissed.

TWO CIRCUSES COMING.

Norris & Rowe Show to Be Here Next Week and Gentry Bros. the Week Following.

Statistics compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor show the exports of crude and refined oil for the past seven years to fall below those of the same period of 1905. This could be accounted for by a more extended domestic consumption, as the production for the same period greatly increased in 1905. A summary of the detailed report of the export of the various classes of oils follows:

Gallons exported in Sept., 1907. Inc. or Dec. Mineral crude ..... 17,491,115 (Inc.) 18,386,627 (Dec.) 17,781,178 (Dec.) 18,645,645 Lubricating ..... 312,317 (Dec.) 312,317 Residuum ..... 1,000

The export of illuminating oil is greater than the standard set by the previous year, and is particularly evident to those countries that might be supposed to be supplied mainly or wholly from California fields. No figures are set after Hongkong for 1907, and it is probable that they could not be compiled, as the Chinese refuse to release the figures.

How Swindlers Dodge Law.

By Edwin W. Sims.

United States District Attorney, Chicago, Formerly Solicitor of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington.

For many years Chicago has been the headquarters for the swindlers and confidence men of the country. Chicago is the great railroad and distribution center of the West, situated in the heart of the country, and there are great numbers of swindlers here. The swindlers have a large class of men who live in the city which money is their main object. They are a class of swindlers who are not swindlers in Chicago despite the utter vigilance and activity of the law, but both State and Federal. In deviating schemes, swindlers always have in view two objects: First, getting money for nothing; second, getting away with the law. The ingenuity displayed by these men is often remarkable. As the attorney for one of them stated after his client had been convicted: "That man had used the same ingenuity and persistence in legitimate business, he would now be a millionaire."

The evolution of the swindling game during the last twenty-five years is interesting. Twenty-five years ago the swindler awoke a precarious existence. His operations were confined to the shell game, card exchange, lotteries, gold, lottery tickets, lotteries, and small sums could be obtained. They also lacked another important feature of the swindler's game, that is, provision for safety. In court, swindlers who had obtained these schemes depended upon detection, but they could offer no defense to the scheme itself. There was a dangerous and cumbersome procedure and duration of time. The swindler has been superseded by the modern form.

In the '80s these schemes began to assume the elements of a false prospectus. The method adopted was to conduct the swindle by an imitation of business methods. An example will show the great change that was made over the old swindler. He would now obtain his advertisements in the papers stating that a business firm with capital wished men to represent it. The swindler would soon learn that he would come in the office of the victim to be told that he had the qualifications necessary to conduct the business and would be offered many of two or three thousand dollars. The swindler would then demand the issuance of a false prospectus, made it a crime before it is possible to deal effectively with the largest class of swindlers that now prey upon the public.

While the United States government cannot directly prosecute schemes to defraud, yet if the mails are used in the furtherance of the scheme, the government can act. As most of these schemes contemplate the use of mails, it is possible for the government to proceed against them under sections 449 and 449 of the United States Revised Statutes. Other courts, however, hold to the contrary; but, whether or not the swindler can be convicted, it is absolutely essential that the issuing of a false prospectus be made a crime before it is possible to deal effectively with the largest class of swindlers that now prey upon the public.

Under this statute, the difficulty is met by making it a crime to issue a false prospectus. Some of our courts have held that the issuing of a false prospectus is a scheme to defraud within section 449 of the United States Revised Statutes. Other courts, however, hold to the contrary; but, whether or not the swindler can be convicted, it is absolutely essential that the issuing of a false prospectus be made a crime before it is possible to deal effectively with the largest class of swindlers that now prey upon the public.

Under this statute, the difficulty is met by making it a crime to issue a false prospectus. Some of our courts have held that the issuing of a false prospectus is a scheme to defraud within section 449 of the United States Revised Statutes. Other courts, however, hold to the contrary; but, whether or not the swindler can be convicted, it is absolutely essential that the issuing of a false prospectus be made a crime before it is possible to deal effectively with the largest class of swindlers that now prey upon the public.

SWALLOWS ACID, RUNS AWAY.SPECTACULAR ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE IN PASADENA.

Man With Deadly Poison in Stomach Escapes from Patrolman, and an Hour is Bought by Officers. Large Quantity of Liquor Acts as Antidote.

Office of The Times, No. 28, Raymond Ave., PASADENA, Nov. 8.—A spectacular attempt at suicide was made last night by Charles Henning, No. 155 San Pasqual Street. He had been drinking heavily when he entered the Pasadena Pharmacy and purchased an ounce of carbolic acid. Stepping to an alley in the rear of the drug store he drank the poison.

Just as the man had swallowed the drug, Patrolman Wood approached, and Henning ran, with the officer in pursuit. Henning disappeared.

This was at 10:30 o'clock. An hour later Henning's wife took him to the Police Station, where an early morning physician was working on him. They thought the man would be able to live. He had taken so much liquor before swallowing the acid that the former acted as an antidote.

HURRY BOND PREPARATIONS.

Preparations for the city bond issue will be hurried, as, after weeks of delay, Prof. C. L. Cory's report on the municipal lighting plant and its economy will be submitted. It supports the estimates of cost made by Advisory Engineer Ezra F. Seattgaard and to a large extent discards the figures made by G. C. Gandy, superintendent of the plant. Cory says that it will take a bond issue of $200,000 to put the plant in shape to handle business according to natural demand. Scattergood and Gandy cost $100,000. Gandy has $600. Considering that both the experts have made higher figures than the municipal superintendent, Mayor Thomas Earley thinks he was justified in curbing other advice in the matter.

Cory's report will be submitted in a further estimate of $72,000 for an underground system, which both Scattergood and Cory say will cost $12,000.

In many other respects the report seems to rest upon the views of the municipal engineer. Cory says that while the mesh system now installed is working well, it must be abandoned when the business grows. The city's electric plant is now supplying feeding systems put in so that the current can be regulated for the various districts. It is one of Gandy's favorite ideas to use the mesh system always.

On the whole the City Council is favorable to the city ownership idea, as it figures out that with all improvements installed the plant can pay interest and maintenance charges and make a net income of $10,000 per annum, leaving the net cost of producing electricity at this plant will be 25 cents.

IMMEDIATELY UPON THE RECEIPT OF THE report of the City Council for tonight, when the whole matter will be considered in executive session, Mayor Earley says that the bond election for the electric lighting bonds and for the sewer and water bonds will be arranged, and the election will probably be before the close of the year. This election will be held independently of the water bonds.

TO USE CASHIERS' CHECKS.

To prevent drainage of money to the East, the local banks have arranged to issue cashier's checks to the city, and the bonds will be issued by check rather than by the drawing of money. The checks of the local banks will circulate in Los Angeles and all near-by towns, just as the cashier's checks of Los Angeles circulate here.

Y.M.C.A. SPORTS.

That the Y.M.C.A. of this town exercises a wide influence upon the young is told by the healthy and enthusiastic aspect that pervades the association. Tonight the Sunday-school indoor baseball league will close the regular season and make ready for the semi-finals and finals, which will be played this evening. The work of George Braden, physical director of the society, he persuaded the Sunday-schools to form clubs when the school had been opened, and this year they have taken a wonderful interest, and the closing games of the series tonight will be watched with as much if not as widespread interest as the league championship of the baseball teams.

Mr. Braden has hit upon another idea equally good. The junior B. basketball league of the association is composed of three clubs which will play a series of games thus: Aztec vs. Titans, Nov. 12; Titans vs. Spartans, Nov. 19; Aztec vs. Spartans, Nov. 23; Titans vs. Spartans, Dec. 3; Aztec vs. Spartans, Dec. 10.

The two leading teams in the Junior B. League will then play a series of games with the Junior A's, and the winners of this series will then meet the Marathons, working boy team, in the city, and the winners of this series will be entertained at dinner by the directors of the association during the Christmas holiday.

Another idea is the Happy Hours, which are being given evening by boys belonging to the association between the ages of 11 and 15 years.

Melville Busch was elected president, and Frank E. Vesal, secretary, and the local committee composed of Joseph Springer, John Eikenberry, Russell Thompson, Frank Marshall and Perry Stone. The boys voted to hold the first "Spud Bile" to Axson on Nov. 16.

The Child-Study Club, Mr. Braden is advocating better play grounds for the school children. He is showing what has been done in other cities and the vast influence exerted by clean sports on the character of the young.

THROOP BASEBALL TEAM.

Although there are only four of the old baseball team in the institute, Throop proposes to redeem its record last year, when there was only one.

Actory scored that against Whittier, Sanning Hall will again captain the team and will likely also act as coach.

The coach and manager will be the coach and second base. Among the other players will be Lucian Wilson at first, Paul Duarte on third, Knight Hester center and the remainder of the team.

The motto adopted by the club is "Win or Bust."

Saturday's football game between Throop and Whittier high schools has been canceled. It is now proposed to arrange a football game for Saturday between the regular Throop eleven and the Hasbeens of the institute. The ## Venice Woman Attacked and Wounded by Savage Animal.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VENICE, Nov. 5.—While strolling on the sidewalk near her home this evening Mrs. P.

Grant was attacked and seriously injured by a savage bulldog belonging to J. Kneves, the piano player at the Auditorium. With Mrs. Grant was her little house dog. When the bulldog made a charge upon the little fellow she picked up her pet and would have carried it in her arms, but the savage bulldog made a lunge at her, sinking his teeth deep into her thigh. He threw her down and scratched her neck in an attempt to get at her throat.

When Mrs. Grant was rescued from her predicament blood was flowing freely from her wounds, and she was so much frightened that she could scarcely speak.

A surgeon was called and cautized the wounds, and no serious results are expected.

The hunting dog of City Trustee

George M. Jones is nursing a head twice its normal size, and may yet yield up its life as the sequel to a hunting experience. Off in the hills back of Playa del Rey the dog ran across a rattle, and gave bat-to the enemy, the result being that the dog was bitten in the nose. The dog's head swelled rapidly as a result of the wound.
